Citizen Comment(s): Janna W.

- pesticide use in the city, mosquito spraying
- her beehive colony was absolutely wiped out this summer due to pesticides
- likely due to private citizen use
- Ideas:
- Jan's perspective:
- cities used to spray in the past but now officially the city does not use pesticides (to her knowledge)
- Mosquito Joe and similar companies may have alternative options besides heavy chemicals - need to make sure they have a business license in RP
- SC could do research to make a recommendation to Council on if we want to prevent them from doing business
- Grace: she hears it a lot that people all over the metro are losing butterflies and bees
- Promote education around the topic primarily
- Dedicated page on the website around sustainability - Megan to talk to Jennifer Jones-Lacey
- Megan to contact Katie Garcia for social media awareness
- Are we able to get a better estimate of the landscape of who is using pesticides.
- talk with Khal about ensuring businesses have licenses

Additions to the Agenda: request from council: do we want a tree canopy master plan? hire someone to help draft a master plan? work with another group like Bridging the Gap, etc? they want to put it in the budget next year. Grace will take a look at it and draft something for Council! Overland Park has a fund to provide 3 trees for every resident. Need to figure out what will work for RP since we have a small staff. Grace will put something together and we will discuss at the next meeting
